Fact

Opinion

Pg. 149 - City Overcrowding = problems - Housing hard to find/costly.	It costs way too much to live in the city. I paid $1250 for a one bedroom apartment in Chicago.
Pg. 149 - City - Taxes - Most cities have higher taxes than rural areas due to many city workers.	Mary - When her parents lived in Chicago, their taxes were way too much and they moved to a suburb.
Pg. 148 - Suburb - Commute - many people travel back and forth long distances to work.	I do not want to commute long hours. I want to live close to my work so I have more personal time.
Pg. 151 - Suburb - Commute - Sleeping Capsuls/High-Speed Trains called bullet trains. Japan	I would not like to live in a little capsule during the week but I wouldn't mind taking a train to read and relax.

The first reason to live in the suburbs is it has a lower cost of living than the city. The suburbs have lower taxes than the city. This is because the city has too many city workers to pay. Mary's parents lived in Chicago and paid high taxes, they moved to Harvey for lower taxes. When I lived in the city, I would wait until I drove out to the suburbs to fill my car up with Gas because the prices are about 40 cents per gallon cheaper in the suburbs than the city.
